11 Visit a College Campus

College visits give you the opportunity to tour campuses and get a feeling of what campus is really like!

Why are campus visits important?

Exploring a college through its website, brochures or videos only gives you a partial picture of what each school is like. However, visiting a school and touring the campus will give you a better idea of whether a school is a good fit for you.

Tips for making the most out of your visit

- 1. Ask questions! Whether you think of questions before or during your visit, make sure to ask to learn more about the school you're visiting.
- 2. Talk to individuals on campus. This could include faculty members, academic advisors, admissions staff and current students.
- 3. Explore what is available for 21st Century Scholars. Visit Scholars.IN.gov/students/college to learn more, and make sure to ask your campus tour guide about specific Scholar programs and resources!
- 4. Take notes on your visit and reach out to the institution with any follow-up questions.

Get started

- 1. LOG IN to your ScholarTrack account at ScholarTrack.IN.gov and select “Checklist” on the homepage.

Did you know?

If you can't do an in-person tour of a campus you're interested in, many schools offer a virtual tour, and it'll satisfy this requirement. Check out the admissions websites of the schools you are interested in more details!

11 Take an Entrance Exam

Entrance exams are an admissions requirement at many postsecondary schools.

The most common exams are the SAT and the ACT.

- The SAT exam focuses on reading and math (multiple choice questions) and has optional writing and subject tests.
- The ACT focuses on English, math, reading and science.

Before you sign up for either exam, make sure you choose the one that best fits your needs. Some programs and schools require or prefer you to take a particular test. Check with your preferred schools' admission websites to see which test you need.

NOTE: If you're planning on attending a school that doesn't require an entrance exam, you still need to take one to satisfy your 21st Century Scholars requirement.

How can I prepare for the exam?

Like any test, getting familiar with the content and studying goes a long way!

ASK your teachers, counselors or mentor what your school or community offers.

VISIT your local library to find ACT or SAT prep materials and practice books.

CHECK OUT test prep websites for free practice tests, test day tips and other resources to help you prepare and improve your skills. Visit ACTStudent.org or CollegeBoard.org.

NOTE: Both the ACT and SAT have a registration fee, but as a 21st Century Scholar, you may qualify for a waiver. Before signing up, talk to your counselor.

- 1. LOG IN to your ScholarTrack account at ScholarTrack.IN.gov and select “Checklist” on the homepage.

11 Search for Scholarships

Scholarships can help pay for additional college expenses and do not need to be paid back.

Why do I need to look for scholarships?

Remember that your 21st Century Scholarship can cover up to full tuition and mandatory fees, but even if you receive full tuition, this award does not cover expenses such as room and board, books and supplies. Unlike loans, scholarships do not have to be paid back and can help cover other costs not covered by your 21st Century Scholarship.

What type of scholarships are available?

As you search for scholarships, remember there are two basic types of scholarships, merit and need-based.

- 1. START by talking with your school counselor. They will often have a list of local and national scholarships that you can start your search with.
- 2. EXPLORE local scholarship opportunities. Check with local civic groups and community foundations to see what scholarships are available.
- 3. CHECK OUT the financial aid websites of schools and universities you are interested in for scholarship opportunities. If you already know of a program or major you're interested in, check that department's page for potential scholarships.
- 4. SEARCH online scholarship platforms to find more possibilities. Below is a short list of sites to explore:
